

Carlo Tomino Pharm.D.

Italian, Professor of Pharmacology at University of San Raffaele (Rome-Italy) and at University of Rome "Tor Vergata"; International Expert (Pharmacology and Regulatory fields) for EATRIS (European Advanced Translational Research Infrastructure in Medicine).

He has worked for 10 years at the Italian Institute of Health – Laboratory of Virology – HIV/AIDS therapy dpt, coordinating a huge number of clinical trials either in HIV and oncology fields.

He spent many years (form 2001 to 2014) in the fields of public health and research and clinical trials at the Italian Medicines Agency (Head of pre-authorization department – Pre- and post-marketing registries). In this period has been established strong links with a large network of partners in government, civil society, private sector, foundations and international organizations.

Main area of work is the pharmaceutical sector/clinical research, working also at the European Medicines Agency (Safety Working Group, Efficacy working group and Pharmacogenomic working group) and the European level (EU commission).

2 books as main author; 6 books as involved author; more 100 peer-review publication and many institutional publication (Annual report on Clinical Trials; Report on post-marketing registries).

Now, Professor Carlo Tomino is coordinating Research and Development activities at San Raffaele Institute of Research (Rome, Italy).